

A MOVE TO THE COUNTRY

Sally blinked back a tear as her dad pulled the car out of the driveway. Today was the day that the Denton [family/ dives/ backs] was moving from their old home [it/ me/ on] the south side of town. They [were/ that/ went] moving to a new home out [or/ in/ be] the country. Sally felt very sad [rather/ jump/ inside]. She knew that she would miss [got/ her/ ease] old school and all of her friends. [Was/ The/ She] knew that she would miss living [quit/ rack/ right] in the heart of the city. [She/ Gone/ Do] didn't know if she could ever [get/ tip/ eat] used to living out in the country.

Mr. Denton [tall/ home/ drove] down the highway that went out [up/ of/ as] the city. Sally's tears dried as [she/ kid/ the] looked out of the car window. [Ram/ Ham/ The] scenery looked so pretty as the [car/ out/ gone] passed by. Sally saw green fields [jack/ with/ very] cows grazing on grass. She saw [race/ oven/ trees] far out in the field and [pretty/ grabs/ sounds] flowers lining the road. When Sally [fans/ rolled/ crash] down the window, she could hear [birds/ town/ quite] chirping their songs. "Maybe living in [ate/ out/ the] country won't be so bad," she thought. "[By/ At/ We] least the country is pretty, while in [door/ the/ on] city we did not have trees [and/ mat/ blot] lots of green grass."

Mr. Denton [pulled/ next/ waste] the car up in front of [came/ knot/ their] new home. Sally looked out her [walking/ worst/ window] at the house.

The house was painted [white/ cable/ event] with green shutters on the windows. Sally [rat/ hose/ ran] through the house to the upstairs bedrooms. [Hat/ She/ Road] found a bedroom that she thought [seen/ rope/ would] be perfect for her own room. [The/ Not/ Cat] room had a slanted ceiling and [in/ a/ be] big window that faced the backyard. [Run/ You/ The] walls were covered with a pretty [rather/ brought/ yellow] and white wallpaper. "This room is [interest/ perfect/ never] for a girl's room," Sally thought.

[That/ Jute/ Your] evening, Sally lay in bed thinking [nope/ over/ rust] the events of the day. The [mammals/ theme/ movers] had moved their furniture early that morning. Sally's mom [and/ out/ born] dad had spent the rest of the [not/ had/ day] placing the furniture where they wanted [or/ it/ we] to go. Sally had gotten the job [nap/ put/ of] putting the books on the bookshelf [and/ best/ pour] the dishes in the cabinet. Sally did [get/ hat/ far] the pretty yellow and white bedroom [eat/ heat/ for] her own. As she lay in [bed/ jar/ air] listening to the frogs croak, Sally decided [nest/ hill/ that] living in the country wasn't so [bad/ the/ out] after all. She did have a [vase/ move/ brand] new pretty room and there would [be/ was/ for] lots of new things to explore tomorrow. [With/ Enter/ Rake] that thought, Sally fell fast asleep.
