

CAREER DAY

Beth's sixth grade class was preparing for career day. This was the day people employed [of/ in/ my] different types of jobs would come [the/ for/ and] tell the class what their job [too/ was/ all] like. Beth knew that the objective [it/ me/ of] career day was to "broaden their horizons" [the/ and/ mat] to get all the kids thinking [first/ grade/ about] what they wanted to be [when/ over/ also] they grew up. Well, that wasn't [I/ a/ go] problem for Beth. She had known [where/ since/ works] the first grade what she wanted [in/ by/ to] do as an adult. She was [going/ class/ skate] to be a beautician. She felt [so/ my/ it] was her calling to work in [a/ to/ I] beauty shop and make women more beautiful.

Beth [day/ was/ and] surprised to see so many different [sixth/ people/ could] in her class that morning. Mrs. Clark [let/ say/ had] really gone all out for this. [Wit/ The/ Was] people were set up in mini-booths [and/ with/ she] were prepared to tell the students [class/ about/ math] their jobs. Although Beth knew what [stay/ her/ get] career plans were, she thought she [should/ hardly/ tonsil] be sociable and at least listen [no/ a/ to] some of the people.

In the [want/ first/ have] booth she visited, Beth met a [woman/ really/ nodded] who was a physical therapist. [Knot/ Rope/ This] woman explained how she worked with [during/ lucky/ people] who had difficulty moving by themselves, [scared/ either/ thinks] because they had gotten old, or [sip/ had/ big] been in an accident, or had [some/ ways/ over] condition that keeps them from using [stand/ money/ their] arms and legs well. Beth found [to/ of/ it] pretty impressive.

In the second booth, Beth [yes/ met/ who] a newspaper writer who had written [booths/ stories/ forest] about news from all around the [bacon/ smile/ world]. Beth thought it might be exciting [as/ it/ to] travel all around the world and [write/ bowl/ glad] about things as they happened.

Next, Beth [inside/ hungry/ visited] a woman who was a florist. [Saw/ She/ Hot] told Beth about how she grew [dog/ all/ mop] different types of flowers and plants. Beth [loved/ until/ thing] flowers and plants.

By the end [of/ to/ we] the morning, Beth had learned about [took/ more/ very] than fifteen different careers. They all [assume/ seemed/ worst] interesting and fun. This made Beth [church/ final/ start] to rethink her own career plans. [Prospect/ Balloon/ Working] in a beauty shop might really [if/ be/ an] what she did as an adult, [but/ the/ bug] Beth decided that in the future [she/ air/ jet] would keep an open mind and consider [man/ the/ win] possibility of other careers.
