The Manchester Transition Center students have been busy in the community this first quarter!

The Manchester Transition Center students have been busy in the community this first quarter. Students complete work site experiences three days a week. Job sites include: blocking shelves at Highland Park Market and Shop Rite, working with animals at Animal City and Protectors of Animals and working in food service at local elementary and middle school kitchens. Part of this experience is funded through an incentive stipend. The students enjoy planning and budgeting for community/leisure activities with the money they have earned.

The students enjoyed a recent trip to Brown's Harvest in Windsor (pictured). They also participate in weekly leisure/exercise outings to the Manchester Community Y. In addition, they have tried out local restaurants to include: IHOP, Lucky Taco, and Antonio's. In December the students have scheduled shopping trips to purchase holiday gifts for family members with their earnings.
