Bowers Elementary School's "Super Social Workers"...

Bowers Elementary School's "Super Social Workers" have taken the Superflex® and Social Thinking® curriculum on the road!

For the past 3 years, Steve Elliott and Christa Perkins piloted the program at Bowers school, and now they have begun to introduce the program in other elementary schools throughout Manchester. The program helps to empower students by blending a specific vocabulary surrounding behavioral issues with characters that represent various common behavioral difficulties. The program teaches social skills in a fun and inviting way, and explains the "why" of learning these skills.
