HOME AND SCHOOL COMMUNICATION AND SUPPORT

Teacher E-Mail Addresses: All teachers at this school have been issued e-mail addresses.

The following narrative about how this school promotes and supports parental involvement was submitted by this school.

The community and Washington teachers work closely to identify areas of support for our families and design activities that target our student's needs. Washington partners with the Manchester library, the Lutz Children's Museum, Borders, BJ's, the Rotary Club, Manchester Community College and many other organizations that support the social and academic growth of our students. Monthly programs at the Lutz provide families opportunities to learn outside the traditional school environment, with a hands-on instructional experience and a related book to accommodate the learning. Throughout the year, the home and school connection is strengthened by Parent/ Teacher activities that engage all age groups in fun, educational experience. We are fortunate to have a Family Resource Center (FRC) right on the school property to work with families in all capacities. The 21st Century After school program provides for inexpensive after school care combining academic support as well as enrichment activities for over 100 students. Our September Open House, Math Night, Grade 1 Thanksgiving Dinner, Literacy Night, concerts and much more build our community and strengthen the relationship between the families and school.

EFFORTS TO REDUCE RACIAL, ETHNIC AND ECONOMIC ISOLATION

Below is the description submitted by this school of how it provides educational opportunities for its students to interact with students and teachers from diverse racial, ethnic, and economic backgrounds.

At Washington students are engaged in rigorous reading, writing and mathematics curriculums and utilize various technology and visual media to create work products. We continue to serve a diverse population of students, culturally, economically and racially. Families are attracted to the school for its diversity and the exposure to various cultures. The unified arts teachers share cultural traditions with students through art, movement and music activities. The staff works closely with our District Equity Trainer to ensure that lessons are culturally relevant and classroom libraries represent all ethnicities. The children are exposed to topics and interact with multiple resources that go well beyond the school boundaries and the state of Connecticut. Our fifth grade students participate in a five-day outdoor educational camp experience that is partnered with students from different socio-economic and ethnic backgrounds. Throughout the year, various activities are planned to expose all Washington students to traditions across cultures.

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT PLANS AND ACTIVITIES

The following narrative was submitted by this school.

Washington School works to provide explicit, targeted instruction to every child through data analysis and quality instruction. Our staff meets regularly to analyze student work and review assessment data to ensure that all student needs are being met. The purpose of these meetings is to ascertain students' instructional level and adjust practices and approaches to meet individual needs. Collaboration and teamwork consistently occur throughout all grade levels, to plan and review a variety of instructional strategies to enhance student learning. Professional development is provided to all staff to support the growth of each educator to ensure that our children are consistently receiving research based instruction. Much of the professional development is provided by the school's Curriculum Coaches for Literacy and Numeracy as well as the Reading Consultant. The school improvement team meets to discuss school planning and next steps in the growth of Washington. The school improvement plan is aligned with the district improvement plan. All instructional planning and family activities are strategically planned to support the improvement of every child at Washington school. At the monthly PTA meetings school events, success and movement toward the school improvement plan goals are shared.

SUPPLEMENTAL SCHOOL INFORMATION

The space below was optionally used by this school to describe aspects of the school not presented elsewhere in the profile.

During the 2012-13 school year Washington Elementary School welcomed 90 students from Nathan Hale school that was closed. These additional students added to the richness of the Washington School family. Washington School offered the following to its student body and families: Focus on integrating robust vocabulary into daily life; After school program, which serves 125 students, in grades K-5 that is recreational and academic in content; Strong community collaborations with several local businesses, schools, churches, and civic organizations; On-site Family Resource Center and Manchester Parks and Recreational Facility; Literacy and Numeracy Night Programs for families of students in Grades K-5; Camping experience for fifth graders at the Discovery Center in Woodstock, CT; Real life experiences that include: visiting a farm, the theater, museums, recycling center and more; Family field trips to promote and encourage literacy and other learning experiences; Non-fiction and fictional writing experiences integrated into every content area of study.
